

The Laboratory of Large-Scale Culture using Muroto Deep-Sea Water was completed.

The Laboratory of Large-Scale Culture using Muroto Deep-Sea Water has been equipped in the Muroto Institute of Deep-Sea Water Research and started to run by corporation of Kochi prefecture.

The opening ceremony has been held at the Muroto Institute of Deep-Sea Water on July 5, 2011 before the operation. Dr. Kotsuki who is responsible for implementation of this project, Professor Tuda and tenure-track researcher Onodera has participated from the board of director at Kochi University. They celebrated an opening with Mr. Takahiro Tsushima, Chief Manager of the Muroto Institute of Deep-Sea Water, Mr. Yutaka Nishiuchi, Chief Manager of Kochi Prefectural Industrial Technology Center, and journalists.

The tenure-track researchers will be expected to lead world level of research achievements and development of new technology to promote industries in Kochi by using this world's largest facility with valuable marine resources, Muroto Deep-Sea Water in Kochi.

