

News

Assistant Professor Ulanova Dana has been give a lecture on「The 11th “THE ONE-DAY SEMINAR” 2012」as a guest instructor at Tosajyuku junior and senior high school.

Dana Ulanova Ph. D. has been invited Tosajyuku junior and senior high school to lecture for “The 11th THE ONE-DAY SEMINAR 2012” on Saturday, June 23, 2012. There are 15 lecturers invited across the country every year for students, their parents and faculty members. She lectured the title called “Introduction to Microbiology – The Role of Microbe in the World of Nature and Human Life” over 60 students and their parents in English through an interpreter. They seemed to understand contents well by taking note and asking questions with full of interest. This great opportunity to explore a new field of study will hopefully help them to find right career in the future.

