

The International Kuroshio Science Workshop: Research for Integrated Coastal Resource Management in Rural Society

(tentative program)

13:30-16:25 February 19 (Tue), 2019

Meeting Room 1, Building of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences 5F,
Asakura Campus, Kochi University

13:30-13:40 Welcome Address

13:40-14:10 Dr. Nelson B. Bien (Regional Director, BFAR R02)

Keynote Lecture “Coastal Resources Management Programs in Cagayan Valley, Philippines”

14:10-14:40 Dr. Evelyn C. Ame (BFAR R02)

“Save Our Endangered Ludong (Cestreaus spp.) : An Inter-Agency Network Collaboration towards Conservation of the Fish in Cagayan Valley, Philippines”

Ludong (Cestreaus spp.)
<https://news.abrenian.com/2011/11/28/special-report-conserving-the-presidents-fish/>

14:40-15:00 Dr. Emma L. Ballad (BFAR R02)

“Exploring Marine Protected Areas in Cagayan Province, Philippines for Resource Conservation and Rural Development”

15:00-15:15 Break

15:15-15:35 Mr. Fumihito Iwase (Shikoku Marine Life Laboratory)

Special Lecture from a field site: “Coral restoration project from heavy rain disaster and the approach for sustainable maintenance framework by local community in Tatsukushi, Tosashimizu City, Kochi”

15:35-16:00 Dr. Tomomi Saito (Usa Marine Biological Institute, Kochi University)

“Loggerhead turtle nesting beaches in Kochi Prefecture – environmental factors affecting oviposition of females and emergence of hatchlings”

16:00-16:20 Discussion

16:20-16:25 Closing Remarks

DC Seminar (Doctoral Course) (Natural/Social Sciences)

Kuroshio Seminar (Master Course) (Natural/Social Sciences)

Hosted by

Kuroshio Science Program, Graduate School of Integrated arts and Sciences, Kochi University

Kuroshio Science Unit, Multidisciplinary Science Cluster, Kochi University